The memories we have of Morristown High
Will often make us stop and sigh
When thoughts of fun and talk and classes
Dash through our minds as time passes
But wait!
Soon should we be not aware
Our memories shall be not there.
Let us here create a vow
To start remembering Morristown now.

The seniors govern themselves.

Spontaneity abounded

During their lunch break students find time for relaxation and conversation.

Candy room view of the hungry mob.

A school, like an army, functions on its stomach.

The elementary children also enjoy school at Morristown.

Events shaped

Fall Musical drew a lot of laughs.

Junior-senior prom proved to be quite enjoyable.

Students added to sectional spirit on Sweatshirt Day.

A teacher serves

In 1952 Mrs. Hardin set a precedent of attending the senior trip and had perfect attendance for 12 years.

Mrs. Hardin is devoted much time to the yearbook.

Forty years of school days have passed quickly for Mrs. Lavaughn Hardin who is retiring this year. In addition to her teaching, the senior trips, commencements, yearbooks, etc. have filled her 36 years at Morristown with pleasant memories.

As she has worked at school, in her home, and the church, she finds they have all provided a variety of activity which has filled her life with happiness.

We shall have most pleasant memories of you, Mrs. Hardin, and we wish to pay our tribute to you, a fine teacher.

Success followed

The graduates are congratulated for 12 years work well done.

Sandy Hamilton, valedictorian.

Salutatorian Ardith Smith.

As we saw ACADEMICS

MHS is proud of its high academic standard. The numerous achievements of the students are made possible by the sincere interest and assistance of our faculty.

Classroom study is the most

Mrs. Pricilla Hale, a graduate of Indiana Central, replaced Miss Cox at the end of the first semester.

Elementary students learn about books and reading.

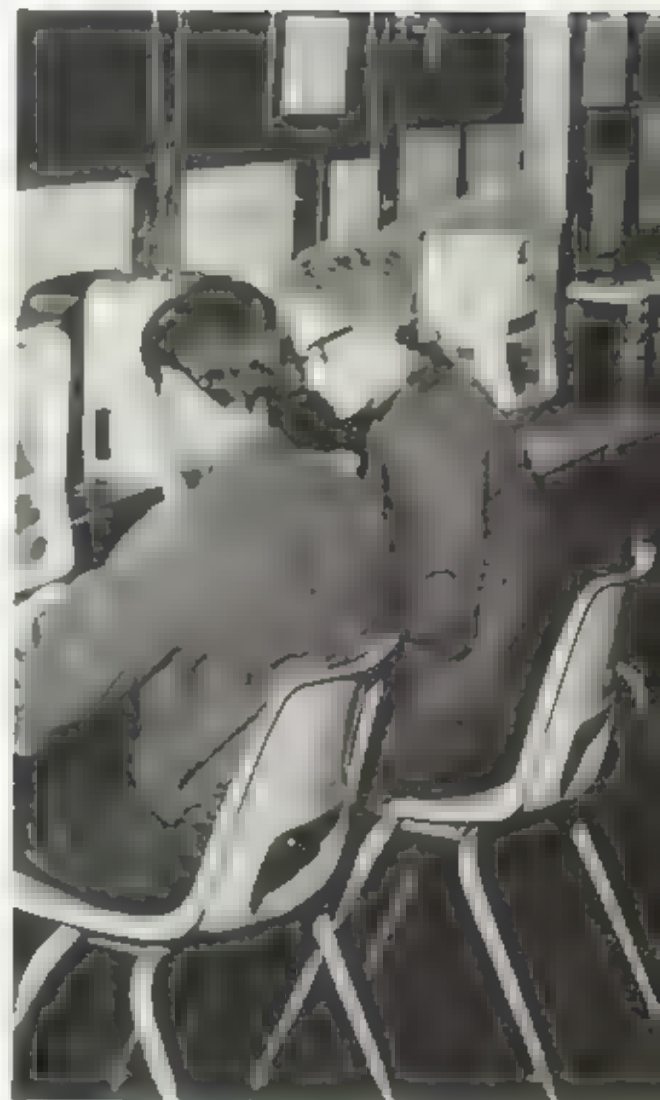

The library is most entertaining and informative.

The study hall creates an atmosphere of learning.

valuable aspect of high school

Many students teach the class the last six weeks.

Mrs. Billman helps students in the reading program.

Miss Wanda Cockerham, a graduate of Ball State, did her student teaching under Mrs. Wortman and Mr. Hagen.

English--basis for communication

Mrs. Velma Wortman heads English and Library Departments.

Sophomore English students study grammar and composition.

Mrs. Velma Wortman, who has B.S. and M.A. Degrees from Butler University and additional work at Middlebury College in Vermont, heads the English Department at MHS. Mrs. Wortman teaches senior English, literature, and speech as well as English at the junior high level. Mrs. Alice Simpson, Mr. William Hauser, and Mr. Neal Hagen teach English to the freshmen, sophomores, and juniors respectively.

Under the fine direction of these teachers, pupils gain an understanding and knowledge of the English language which will be of great value in future years.

Speech class in room 150. Students participate in oral speaking and dramatic presentation procedure.

Social studies views world affairs

Mr. Howard W. Hamilton, left, who has a B.A. Degree from Purdue University, and Mr. Neal Hagen, who holds a B.S. Degree from Canterbury College and has additional work at Butler University and Ball State University head the Social Studies Department at MHS. Mr. Hamilton teaches world and United States history while Mr. Hagen directs the seniors in government and economics.

The Social Studies Department increases world understanding and prepares its students to be informed and knowledgeable citizens.

Mr. Neal Hagen, left, is a Social Studies teacher at MHS. He has a B.S. Degree from Canterbury College and has additional work at Butler University and Ball State University.

Miss Mary Barry utilizes the language machine to aid her Spanish I students and Helo Angel (Spanish Bingo) to show Spanish III students a form of entertainment in Spanish speaking countries.

concentrate on foreign cultures

Lat I II students become intimately acquainted with Caesar through his account of the Gallic Wars.

Mrs. Simpson relates the importance of Roman myths.

Miss Mary Berry and Mrs. Alice Simpson connect the old world and the new world in their endeavors to enlighten interested students in Spanish and Latin.

Miss Berry, a graduate of Indiana State University, teaches Spanish I, II, and III. Here her instructions range from the basic grammar of Spanish to the translation of novels and other Spanish works. Besides her Spanish classes Miss Berry, who was a social studies major, teaches junior high geography classes.

Mrs. Alice Simpson holds an A.B. Degree from the University of Utah and has additional work at the University of Idaho and Indiana University. Mrs. Simpson has also studied at the American Academy at Rome. Latin I and II students find that the ancient world was very colorful and provided much that contributes to today's culture.

Math and science dominate the Students work in the science laboratory.

Mr. Blocher smilingly discusses life sciences.

Student biologists view minute objects through a microscope.

Mr. Robert Rigdon patiently answers questions and guides the thinking of his science students.

future of the modern world

Mrs. Myrtle Hutchinson always has algebra and geometry papers to grade.

Students are interested in statistics, algebra, and geometry.

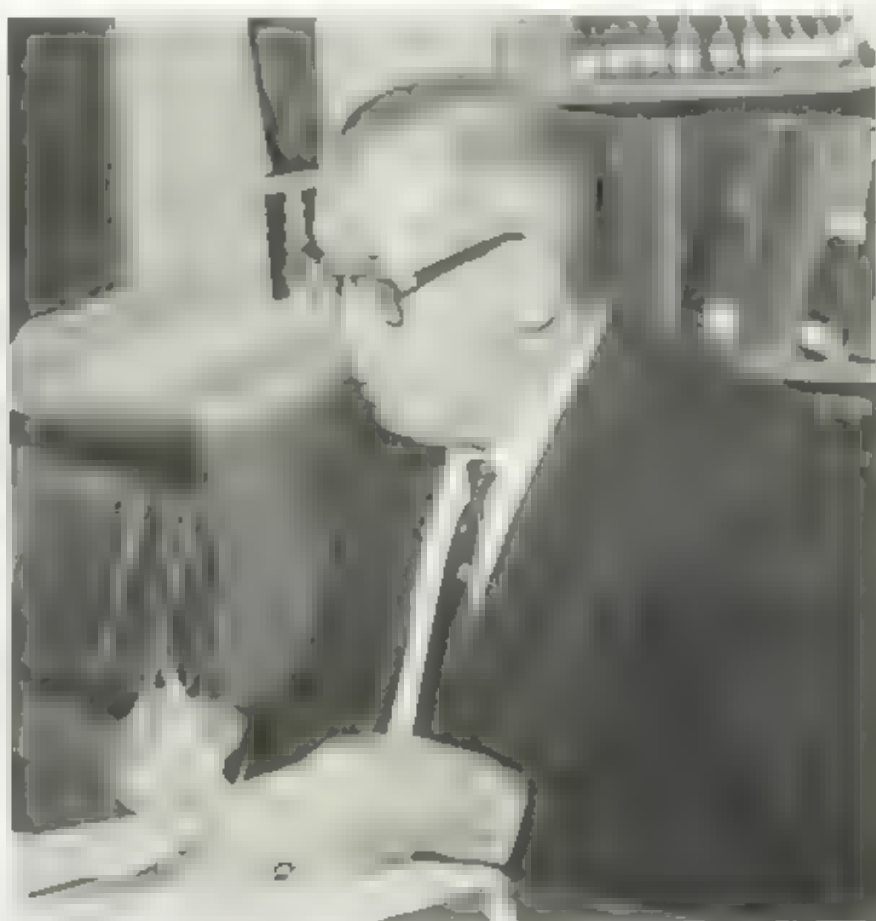

The advanced mathematics course, trigonometry, statistics, probability, matrices, and algebra are also taught.

Under the fine direction of Mr. Robert Rigdon and Mr. Leroy Blocher the Science department at MHS is rapidly expanding. Mr. Rigdon holds B.S. and M.S. Degrees from Purdue University and has also studied at Butler, Indiana Central, and Valparaiso. Mr. Blocher graduated from Butler University with a B.S. Degree and has additional work at Indiana Central and Ball State.

Mrs. Myrtle Hutchinson and Mr. Robert Rigdon are the academic math teachers. Mrs. Hutchinson graduated from Purdue with a B.S. Degree and has studied at N.Y.S.T.C. Genesee, the University of Wisconsin, and Purdue Extension.

Typing I students work on letters and manuscripts.

Mr. Morris busily grades business papers.

Mrs. Hartley votes for and cheers for the yearbook.

Office practice gives girls practical experience.

insight into business and industry

Mrs. Ilene Bailey plans her lessons well in advance.

Shorthand prepares students for secretarial work.

The MHS business department, in the capable hands of Mrs. LaVaughn Hardin, Mr. Norman Morris, and Mrs. Ilene Bailey, prepares students for jobs in the modern business world.

Mrs. Hardin attended Marion College and graduated from Central Normal College with A.B. and B.S. Degrees. She teaches typing, bookkeeping, and office practice and is the sponsor of the business section of the yearbook.

Mr. Morris in addition to his coaching duties teaches courses in business math. He is a graduate of Ball State University and has a B.S. Degree.

A graduate of Indiana State University Mrs. Bailey holds B.S. and M.S. Degrees from there. Mrs. Bailey teaches business law, shorthand, and girls physical education.

Industrial arts presses forward

Mr. Gregg Steele instills interest in industrial arts.

Mr. Gregg Steele, graduate of Purdue University where he holds a B.S. Degree and Ball State University where he holds an M.A. Degree, heads the Industrial Arts Department at MHS. Now in his second year at Morristown, Mr. Steele has greatly improved industrial arts facilities here by adding new classes, equipment, and ideas.

Drawing III students explore new trends in architectural drawing.

The advanced power mechanics class learns new automotive skills.

Some of the students of Mr. James Bridges are taking a lesson in agriculture.

Home economics-agriculture coexist

Mrs. Stauffer gives Mr. Bridges a lesson in repair work.

The Home Economics Department is under the direction of Mrs. Jenny Stauffer, who holds a B.S. Degree from Ohio State University. With her guidance junior and senior high school students learn the arts of cooking, sewing, manners, child care, appearance and many other essentials necessary to the success of future homemakers.

Mr. James Bridges heads the Agriculture Department at MHS. A graduate of the University of Tennessee, he holds a B.S. Degree and has thirty-six hours of graduate study to his credit. Agriculture students spend time not only in classroom study, but also in field assignments where they learn such things as soil judging, livestock judging, and other related activities.

Mr. Bridges also is the sponsor of the Future Farmers of America.

Mrs. Jenny Stauffer uses visual aid to show her students the importance of good taste in make-up.

Art and music promote culture

Miss Lois Jackson creates interest in art; Mrs. Eva Gordon conducts the choir; Mr. John Sitton gives individual band lessons.

Art and Music have gained a large following and widespread interest under the direction of Miss Lois Jackson, Mrs. Eva Gordon and Mr. John Sitton.

Miss Jackson, the art teacher at MHS, has A.B. and M.F.A. Degrees from Indiana University and has studied at Marian College, John Herron Art School, Ohio State University, and Butler. Miss Jackson also devotes much time and effort toward making the Prom a success.

Mrs. Eva Gordon received her training at the Jordan Conservatory of Music, Butler, and the John Herron Art School. Mrs. Gordon's days are filled with music as she works with students from all grades.

Mr. John Sitton, a graduate of Butler with a B.S. Degree is now working on his Master's Degree at Ball State. Mr. Sitton's band duties are combined with teaching fourth and fifth grade music.

Miss Jackson's junior high art class makes imaginative posters from magazine cutouts.

Mr. Boxner instructs a boys' physical education class in the fine points of football.

Drivers' licenses--healthy bodies

Fundamentals of badminton are important in girls' P. E.

Mr. Cox and driver education students view the engine of the drivers' training car. Besides their actual driving experience students spend hours in classroom work.

Elementary students enjoy learning basic fundamentals which will prepare them for higher education and greater achievements.

Administration

Superintendent James O. Smith is director of a staff of 167 in the Shelby Eastern School District: 86 teachers, 8 teacher's aids, 9 secretaries, 27 bus drivers, 15 cooks, 9 full-time janitors, 4 part-time janitors, 7 board members, 1 attendance officer, and 1 school nurse. These are all at work in an area of 156 square miles. The district's budget this year is $1,108,000.

Mr. Smith obtained his B.S. Degree from Evansville College and M.S. and Ed. S. Degrees from Indiana University.

A building program is planned for both the Waldron and Morristown schools. This is to be completed by 1968-1969.

Administrator at Morristown High School is Principal Robert Kelso who holds degrees from Purdue and Butler Universities.

With the counsel of an able school board and the assistance of the Parent Teachers Association, Morristown is experiencing progress.

Principal Robert Kelso guides students and faculty at M. H. S.

Betty Tribby serves genially as school secretary.

PTA officers for 1966-67 are Mrs. Ina Kuhn, treasurer; Miss Mary Berry, secretary; Mr. Robert Klepper, president; Mr. George Hoeltke, vice-president.

St. Mary Eastern School Board Members: Mr. Bernard Copeland, treasurer, Mr. Maynard Payne, secretary, Mr. Harold Wood, Mr. Henry Gordon, president, Mr. Marvin Boring, Mr. Thomas Wheeler, vice-president; Mr. Paul Goshall.

Mr. J.O. Smith is our superintendent of schools.

Mrs. Doris Kelso, Mrs. Mabel Pearce, and Mrs. Helen Kuhn are the school board secretaries.

Students appreciate guidance

Achievement test are important to academic development.

Mrs. Judith Grigsby is the guidance counselor at MHS and is one of the most helpful and appreciated faculty members. Mrs. Grigsby's duties include giving achievement and aptitude tests, counseling students on the advantages of college or vocations, and presenting material concerning the futures of MHS students. She is a graduate of Purdue University with a B.S. Degree and Butler University with a M.S. Degree.

Mrs. Grigsby informs students of college qualifications.

Mrs. Judith Grigsby spends much time at her desk preparing materials affecting the futures of students at MHS.

As we saw ACTIVITY

Each MHS organization was very busy this year planning its various activities. A lot of time and hard work accompanies each event that is planned to make it one of the best.

Yearbook Staff -- seated: Mrs. Harden, business sponsor, Jerry Harden, advertising manager, John Thurston, business manager; Joan Long, editorial manager, Ken Stewart, Editor-in-Chief, Sandy Hamilton, academic editor; Gretchen Smith, art and layout editor. Standing: Marlene Beers, assistant circulation manager; Susan Sutton, assistant advertising manager; Brenda Watson, Nancy Osborn, student trustees, typists, Kevin Bass, circulation manager; Danny Waltz, administration editor; Doug Davis, sports editor, Mike Slater, photography editor, Linda Sipe, underclassmen album editor; Linda McWilliams, senior advisor, editor, Marsha Wicker, activities editor, Mrs. Wortman, editorial sponsor.

Deadlines keep us working

Compounding a school's yearbook commands the strictest attention to details and accuracy. The 1967 Morristown Echoes Staff spent much time going over small flaws in pages, layout, measurement, or proportion, or trying to find just the right word. The staff members became better acquainted while always thinking of the next deadline.

The staff spends many valuable after-school hours devising appropriate and effective copy and page layout.

Keeping informed through Forum

Officers -- row 1: Linda McWilliams, president, Sandy Hamilton, treasurer, Joan Long, secretary. Row 2: Mr. Hagen, sponsor; Jerry Williams, vice-president; Danny Waltz, student council.

All members of the Forum were juniors or seniors in high school. They met twice a month to discuss a variety of current local, state, national, and international topics, such as: "Is God Dead?", "Do You Believe in Psychics?" and "The Great Moral Revolution". The members separated into groups of five or six so that everyone could participate in the discussions, which lasted for a given length of time, usually forty-five minutes. A high percentage of the members of this loquacious group earned honor pins through perfect attendance, leadership, excellent ratings by officers and other members, and fulfilling all obligations to the organization.

Student Council pleads our case

The entire student body enjoyed an intriguing convocation about "The World of the Atom."

The Student Council, a group of students elected to represent the entire student body, has a voice in the school. The main purpose of the Student Council is to act as a mediator between the students and the administration. It is for the benefit of the eighth grade students and the administration because of their representation. The Student Council sponsors convocations for the student body and mixers for the high school students after home basketball games. Since students made their problems known through their representatives and the MHS Suggestion Box, this important group helped formulate some of the school policies. They also sponsored the annual Halloween Dance and governed the election of the yell-leaders.

Library serves student body

The Librarians' Club members took care of the school's library. They charged out books, kept them neatly and accurately arranged on the shelves, displayed the current magazines, and helped students find needed reference materials. At Christmastime they enjoyed a party at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. Wortman. A farewell "get-together" for the seniors was held towards the end of the year. The members helped sell underclassmen's pictures at noon and received a percentage of the profit.

Officers -- Joyce McDaniel, S. C.; Ruth Fouts, secretary; Vicki Denney, vice-president; Susan Sutton, president.

Science club expands facilities

This year the Science Club subscribed for various kits to perform experiments at its regular meetings. It also took care of our school's own photography needs. The members made many additions to their science library and kept up with new developments in the fields of science by subscribing to two weekly and one monthly publications. They toured Eli Lilly's Biological Laboratories in the late fall and sponsored the annual Science Fair for all junior and senior high school students, displaying the exhibits at the Christmas Open House. They finished the year with an informal party.

Latin club views classical life

Students who are taking Latin or have taken two years are eligible to be in the Latin Club. The members come to appreciate the contributions of the ancient world to our civilization. On March 15, the fateful Ides of March, the new members were slaves and wore Roman togas to school and a banquet was held that night. Later in the year the new members were initiated at a ceremony complete with sacrificial apples. The club had bake sales throughout the year as money-making projects. Members attended the State Convention of the Indiana Junior Classical League at Ball State University and nominated Anita Guffin for state vice-president.

Latin Club -- seated, row 1: Sandy Rogers, Nancy Osborn, Jennifer Borja, Mrs. Simpson, Char Engle, Robertson. Row 2: Teresa Lutz, Lisa Jones, Anita Guffin, Linda Insley, Chris Meiser. Row 2: Greg Brown, Hal Smith, Jeanne Doherty, Cinda Sipe, Sarah Price, Rick Reed, Richard Keaton. Row 3: Gary Theodor, Jack Hawk, Jeff Barton, John Adams, Steve Sullivan, Philip Batton, Mark Bassett. Row 4: Melvin Cross, Michelle McGraw, Rick Spencer, Gary Adams, Mike Young, Phil Coomes. Standing: Sherry Wilson, Linda Davis, Krista Keaton, Hal Smith, Mike McPherson, Deborah Adams, Beck Young, Janice, Steve Brown, Tom McWilliams, Cinda Montgomery, Sue Hagen, Connie Slater, Donna McDaniel, Alice Ferris, Janice Galloway, Marcia Foster, Dennis Stanley, Jeff Long, Miss Berry, sponsor.

Foreign cultures- fun, educational

The Spanish Club had meetings in which the members acquired fuller understanding of the cultures and ways of life in Spain, Mexico, South and Central America. The highlight of the year was the initiation party held in the winter. At this party new members were slaves to the senior members. The club posted a bulletin board boosting school spirit at Sectional time.

Industrial Arts Club -- row 1: M. Everhart, P. Talbert, M. Addison, J. Wilson, L. Cass. Row 2: S. Andis, J. VanDyke, R. Hunt, T. Hamilton, K. Weber. Row 3: E. Floyd, M. Breece, A. Lindsey, L. MIAC delves in mechanical skills

The second year of the industrial Arts Club found it rolling into high gear. A frequent gathering-spot for racing enthusiasts was around the slot car track into which they put much time and effort rebuilding this year. Showing their loyalty to the MIAC the members purchased pins and year chains. The club had charge of concessions at some ballgames to meet expenses. Approaching the close of the year the underclassmen members honored the senior members at a banquet.

GAA active in many sports

The Girls Athletic Association provides recreation for high school girls. Early in the fall they had a memorable weekend camp-out when they initiated new members. Their winter highlight was the annual bowling tournament. Some other activities were softball, basketball, gymnastics, relays, Christmas caroling, and competing against Shelbyville's volleyball team. All of the members received various awards at the Athletic Awards Banquet.

The girls experiment at performing gymnastics on the newly acquired balance-beam and parallel bars.

The Varsity Club makes money by selling concessions at Freshman home ballgames.

Varsity Club's number grows

Members of the Varsity Club must be athletes who have earned a varsity letter and maintained a C or better average, and it is the club's objective to encourage other athletes' scholarship. This year the Varsity Club drew up and accepted its first constitution. As in the past, the club operated the concessions stand at Freshmen home basketball games.

Booster Club generates spirit

The Booster Club is the heart of the Varsity and Second teams' cheering section. The members sit together at all games and join in the cheers led by the yell-leaders. This year the club bought bolts of black and gold cloth and the older members, helped by the home economics department, made capes to wear at the games. They sold concessions at a New Palestine game to earn money.

S.O.S.--Spreaders of sunshine

As their creed states, the concern of the Sunshine Society is serving others. A large majority of the high school girls belong to the MHS chapter of this state-wide organization. Their many charitable projects included nursing home visiting, helping with the local March of Dimes, serving as Candy Stripers at the Major Hospital in Shelbyville, helping the teachers at school, sending newsletters to MHS graduates in the armed services, and donating a sum of money to the Riley Hospital for Children in Indianapolis, their state project. The girls also operated a coat-check at all home ballgames, held candy sales, and were secret friends to "Ideal Ladies". An important event this year was the purchase of a large outdoor sign for the school to inform the community of current school happenings. Of course, the formal initiation services, the annual Christmas Dance, Daddy Date Night, the Spring Tea for mothers and Ideal Ladies, and attending District and State Conventions at other schools will always be remembered by the members.

New members are initiated at a formal ceremony.

A new sign to list current school events was purchased with funds from last year and this year.

FFA prepares for future, present

Through striving to promote the practice of brotherhood, honor, rural opportunity, and responsibility, the members of the Future Farmers of America develop qualities of leadership. The FFA program serves as an excellent supplement to the high school's vocational agriculture program. This year our Morristown chapter successfully competed in crop, dairy, livestock, soil, and entomology judging contests and the Parliamentary Procedure Contest.
Another highlight of the year was the annual Father and Son Banquet.

The school's new outdoor bulletin board is put up.

Hi-Y encourages higher standards

The purpose of Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian living through clean sports, speech, scholarship, and living. Other events of the year included initiation ceremonies for new members and the annual dance, held in the fall this year.

Left: The Hi-Y sent Bob Griffin and Rev. Bass to the Mock U.N. at the State House, representing Austria.

The entire cast sings of its loyalty to Snowflake Soap Company.

Annual musical, 'Bubble Trouble'

The Vocal and Instrumental Departments presented our third annual musical production entitled "Bubble Trouble", concerning unconventional business methods in the stock market. It was directed by Mr. Sitton and Mr. Hamilton, with Mr. Sitton conducting the band and Mrs. Gordon the vocal arrangements. In addition to the stage cast, selected members of the choir and band provided the musical accompaniments.

Music department has full listing

The choirs are a busy department of our high school. As soon as school started the band and music students began working on the musical play. A great number competed in the district contest and MHS was successfully represented in the state level also. The music department participated in a vocal clinic and concert in the spring and presented a musical variety show. Various groups frequently entertained at other private occasions. The choir also took part in the county music festival and sang at the high school commencement exercises.

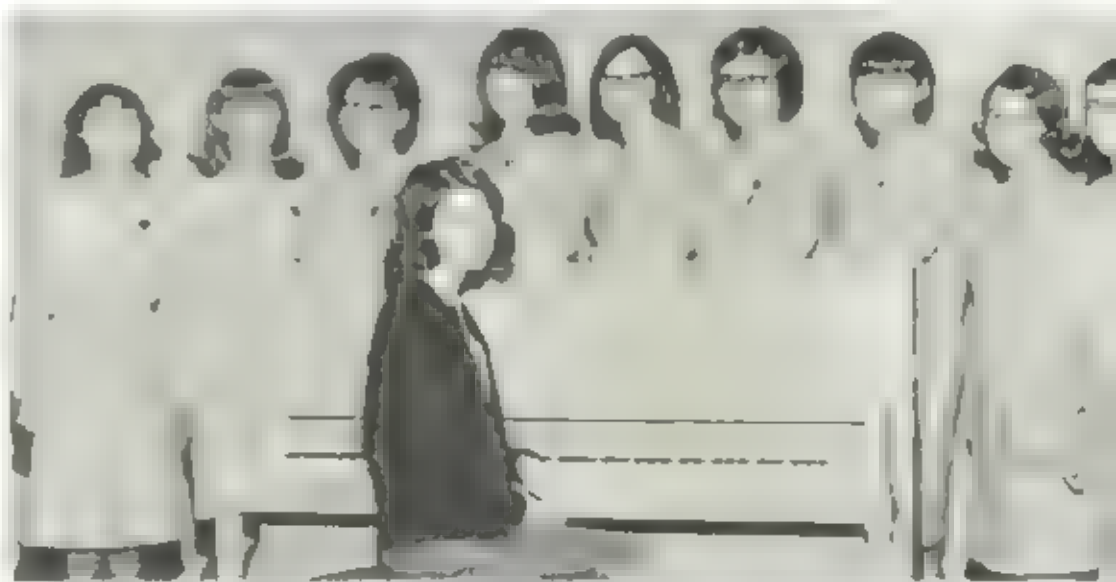

Freshman Choir -- row 1: Judy McCormick, Regina Cummings, Karla Goss. Row 2: John Dobbins, John Van Dike, Sue Hagen, Connie Slifer, Debbie Ramsey, Kristen Keaton, Jack Skilman, Karen Klepper, Elaine Bateman, Patty Bennett, Paul Sutton, Bobby Beyers. Band thrives on competition

The band is one of the most active groups in school. The marching band participated in contests at Muncie (10th place), the State Fair Farmers' Day Parade (10th place), the opening parade of the Memorial Day 500-Mile Race, placed first in its class in state-wide competition at Rushville, was unable to attend the Shelby County Fair contest because of rain, and participated in the annual County Band Festival. The band played at all home basketball games and accompanied the majorettes' routines. Some members attended a concert of the Wind Ensemble at Ball State University. Its fund-securing projects were a fish fry, concessions at a ballgame, and the annual popcorn and community calendar sales. The Seniors', Juniors', and marching awards were given at the fall banquet, and the McGinnis Award, a special award for a senior, was presented at the end of school.

Marching awards -- Patty Bennett, Jim Thurston, Joan Long.

Senior Jackets L. Jones, K. Montgomery, A. Smith, M. Bevers, J. Thurston, G. Smith, J. Cole, J. Long.

At least 100 fans met at the gate to watch and majorettes present the colors.

The majorettes performed at some of the games.

Hard-ear players -- row 1: Vicki Price, Sally Peers, Janie Haseman, Marla Bennett, Denise Tucker. Row 2: Danny Waltz, Jesse Hickman, Marion DeBaun, Sandy Endicott, Kevin Toll.

'Rest Assured'--

Senior Play

The Seniors, directed by, Mr. Hauser, presented two performances of "Rest Assured" April 7 & 8. A special feeling of class unity developed as every member of the class did his part in this, one of the last class projects. As the final curtain fell, they all were caught between mixed emotions--regret that it was all over, and happiness in remembering the fun of preparing and presenting the play.

Scene of Prom is "East of Eden"

Prom Court -- Sister Leites, member of Prom Court, and Kevin Bass, King of Prom Court, crowned by last year's king and queen from a foot-bridge spanning a cascading waterfall. Other members of Prom Court are: Jane Hasehan, Mike Theodore, Teresa Lee, Morris Everett, Lynn Jennifer Brown, King Lee Biss, Anna Gatten, Marvin Guffin, Sandy Rogers, Jack Wilcox.

The theme of the 1967 Junior-Senior Prom was "East of Eden", and our gymnasium had mystically become as verdantly beautiful as a Garden of Eden. The Junior class honored the Senior class and the faculty at a Pre-Prom banquet dinner where the seniors' wills and the juniors' prophecy of the class of 1967 were presented. The Prom Court was crowned by last year's king and queen from a foot-bridge spanning a cascading waterfall, and the evening's music was provided by the Dawn Five. The two classes and their guests also enjoyed the Post-Prom Party at the gym with various games, prizes, and dancing.

Formal attire does not always mean formal dance numbers.

Class of '67 takes leave of MHS

As we saw it--we who made up our school, who were the school, experienced many and varied activities. As we suddenly find our high school days to be history rather than happening, the past instead of the present, and that great abyss which had been referred to as the future becomes now, we view in retrospect our experiences together the last few years; extracurricular activities, class parties, selecting class rings, working on the prom, selling magazines, trading senior pictures and name cards, commencement, and the reluctance of leaving familiar faces and old friends. All of these will have a permanent place in our special memories as we must go our separate and diverse ways.

As we saw SPORTS

Trophies, victories, work, and defeat were mixed in the thrilling world of sports at MHS. Each did his best on the track, field, and court to make sports important in school life.

Row 1: B. Jackson, S. Spurr, J. Bass, E. Anderson, G. Ebert, D. Waldron. Row 2: M. Theobald, M. Schmitt, G. Meiser, P. Batten, B. Gifford, G. Jones.

Daily navigating U.S. 52 and twisting county roads this year with a perfect safety record were ten school bus drivers. Though sometimes taken for granted, the bus drivers are responsible for several hundred students each day.

Other service personnel vital to the operation of the school are the cooks who prepare and serve a variety of meals daily, and Mrs. Grace Tucker who is lunch room monitor and is in charge of one of the most popular facilities in the school, the candy room. The janitors are responsible for maintaining the building and grounds.

Seniors take control on their day of glory--Senior Day.

Seniors wish each other luck after graduation.

School is never really out until the teachers leave.

The halls of Morristown High echo with the silence brought by summer vacation and three months of freedom.

On Many occasions small groups worked late at night to meet deadlines.

The staff and I have worked hard in making the 1967 Echoes a true-to-life yearbook. We now proudly present to you the fruits of our labors.
